(3) A disclosure under subsection (1) shall be recorded in the minutes of the Board.

(4) No act or proceeding of the Board shall be questioned on the ground that a member of the Board has contravened this section.

PECUNIARY INTERESTS FOR THE PURPOSES OF PARAGRAPH 7

8. (1) For the purposes of paragraph 7, a member of the Board shall be treated, subject to the following provisions of this paragraph and to paragraph 9, as having indirectly a pecuniary interest in an application, contract, proposed contract, licence or other matter if—

REMOVAL OR EXCLUSION OF DISABILITY, ETC.

9. (1) The Minister may at his discretion and subject to such conditions as he may think fit appoint persons to act as members of the Board for any specified period, in any case in which the number of members of the Board disabled by paragraph 7 at any one time would be so great a proportion of the whole as to impede the transaction of business.

(3) Paragraph 7 does not apply to an interest in an application, contract, proposed contract, licence or other matter which a member of the Board has as a member of the public or to an interest in any matter relating to the terms on which the right to participate in any service is offered to the public.

SCHEDULE 4

INVESTMENT CODE

This Code provides guidance on the conditions for investment in Antigua and Barbuda and on the rights privileges and responsibilities of investors under a Scheme of Incentives and Concessions established by the Investment Authority Act 2006. The incentives available under the Act may be fiscal or non fiscal inducements and concessions, including tax relief in the form of exemptions or concessionary rates to which an investor may be entitled.

To become eligible for consideration under the Scheme it is necessary to make an investment of capital in Antigua and Barbuda. “Investment” means an asset committed by the investor in a business established or to be established in Antigua and Barbuda and includes:

(a) movable and immovable property and any other rights such as mortgages, liens or pledges, and similar rights;

(b) shares, stock, securities and debentures of a company or any other form of participation in a company;

(c) claims to money or to any activity having an economic value directly related to an investment;

(d) intellectual property rights, including copyright and related rights, trademarks, geographical indications, drawings, models and industrial designs, patents, layouts-designs, distinctive signs and know-how;
The following assets are not eligible for inclusion as investments or as part of investments:

- a debt instrument;
- claims to money that arise solely from commercial contracts for the sale of goods or services
- portfolio investment or investment that is equivalent to less than 10% of the assets committed to an enterprise
- any intangible asset or other claims to money, that do not involve at least one of the types of interests as set out in paragraphs (a) - (j) above.

EQUALITY OF TREATMENT

Both “foreign” and “local” investors are eligible for consideration under the Scheme.
The Government will treat foreign investors and local investors entirely equally with respect to the establishment, acquisition, expansion, management, conduct, operation, and sale or other disposition of investment in its territory.

APPLICABILITY AND LIMITATIONS

The Scheme does not apply to any measures adopted by Antigua and Barbuda to limit the participation of the investments of an investor for reasons of national security or public order; any investment made with capital or assets of illicit origin; or any enterprises to be conducted in the Free Trade and Processing Zone established pursuant to the Free Trade and Processing Zone Act No. 12 of 1994.

Potential investors should note that foreign investment in economic activity is subject to such laws in force in Antigua and Barbuda as are applicable to that sector of economic activity. The Scheme is also subject to the provisions of international treaties and agreements.

The Scheme is also subject to any measures the Government may take to:

• protect public morality;
• prevent crime and maintain public order;
• maintain its essential security interests;
• protect human, animal and plant life and non-living exhaustible natural resources;
• protect the balance of payments and react to balance of payments difficulties;
• secure compliance with laws or regulations relating to the prevention of deceptive and fraudulent practices, money laundering, narco-trafficking and terrorism and the effects of a default on contracts;
• secure compliance with laws relating to taxation;
• ensure or guarantee compliance with the penal, labour and tax laws and judgements;
• secure compliance with laws or regulations relating to the protection of the privacy of individuals in relation to the processing and dissemination of personal data and the protection of confidentiality of individual records and accounts;
• protect national treasures of artistic, historical, anthropological, palaeontological and archaeological value;

• give effect to international obligations including treaties on the avoidance of double taxation;

• give effect to benefits granted as a result of agreements establishing customs unions, common markets, economic or monetary unions, or similar arrangements.

PERSONNEL ISSUES

Subject to the provisions of the Antigua and Barbuda Labour Code, which includes provisions relating to work permits and trade union recognition as well as statutory conditions relating to employment in Antigua and Barbuda, a foreign investor may employ such number of foreign nationals in the management of a business enterprise as may be required.

Where foreign nationals are employed in a business enterprise pursuant to section (1) the foreign investor is required to ensure that employees who are citizens of Antigua and Barbuda understudy the foreign nationals and that provision is made where appropriate in the enterprise for the transfer of skills to such employees within a reasonable time.

TRANSFERS OF FUNDS

A foreign investor may without delay and on a non-discriminatory basis transfer into and out of Antigua and Barbuda, in a freely convertible currency, funds relating to an investment, including funds for:

• repayment of foreign loans or interest on foreign loans;

• payment of dividends of non citizen shareholders, or to citizens of Antigua and Barbuda who reside abroad;

• payment of royalties or fees in respect of an agreement for the transfer of foreign technology;

• payments of emoluments and other benefits to foreign staff employed in Antigua and Barbuda or in connection with the enterprise;

• transfer abroad of profits or proceeds derived from the sale, disposal or termination of the enterprise, or capital assets derived from the enterprise.
However, the Government retains the right, under circumstances of exceptional or serious balance of payments difficulties, to limit transfers of funds temporarily, on a fair and non-discriminatory basis. The government also has the right to prevent a transfer of funds under laws relating to bankruptcy; insolvency; creditors’ rights; criminal offences; the reporting of transfers of currency or other monetary instruments; or the enforcement of judgments.

PROTECTION OF PROPERTY

Investments in Antigua and Barbuda will not be nationalised, expropriated or subject to indirect measures having an equivalent effect, except where any such measures are adopted for the public good and in accordance with due process of law, on a non-discriminatory basis and accompanied by prompt, adequate and effective compensation.

Compensation in such cases will amount to the fair market value of the expropriated investment immediately before the expropriation or the impending expropriation became public knowledge, whichever is earlier. It shall include interest from the date of dispossession of the expropriated property until the date of payment. Compensation will be paid without delay, in convertible currency, and will be effectively realisable and be freely transferable.

COMPENSATION FOR LOSSES

A foreign investor in Antigua and Barbuda who suffers losses on his investment as a consequence of war, armed conflict, revolution, state of emergency, natural disaster, insurrection or civil disorder or as a result of requisition or destruction of its investment by the Government’s forces or authorities which was not required by the necessity of the situation will receive, in respect of resources made available for reparation, restitution, indemnification, compensation or other settlement, treatment no less favourable than that accorded to local investors.

However, in the case of a natural disaster, the Government can only undertake to use its best efforts in respect of resources made available for compensation and its distribution.

INCENTIVES AND CONCESSIONS

An investor shall be entitled to be considered for the following incentives and concessions:

- Exemption from payment of Customs Duty
- Reduction of Property Tax
Exemption from Income Tax

Reduction of Stamp Duty

Exemption from Withholding Tax

The amount of such incentives and concessions will depend on the amount of the investment and the number of employees in the proposed business.

There may also be incentives and concessions under particular laws that relate to particular types of business.

TRANSPARENCY

The laws, regulations, administrative practices and procedures of general application, and judicial decisions that affect or pertain to investments or investors in Antigua and Barbuda are promptly published. Where the government establishes policies that affect or pertain to investments or investors which are not expressed in laws and regulations or by other means listed in this paragraph, the Government will make them publicly available.

As far as possible, the Government provides interested persons a reasonable time for comment on any proposed measures and publishes in advance such laws, regulations, administrative practices and procedures of general application that it proposes to adopt.

On request by a member of the public the Government will provide, in a timely manner, information and responses to questions pertaining to any actual or proposed laws, regulations, administrative practices and procedures of general application, or pertaining to any judicial decision.

However, the government will not disclose or allow access to any confidential or proprietary information, including information concerning particular investors or investments, the disclosure of which would impede law enforcement, be contrary to its laws protecting confidentiality, or prejudice the legitimate commercial interests of investors.

DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

An investor will be required to furnish certain information on the nature of the activities and mode of operations, in keeping with the particular laws and regulations of the Government and the need for transparency. However, an investor will not be required to disclose confidential or proprietary information that could prejudice legitimate commercial interests.
CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Investors will be required to recognise the economic and social objectives and the policies and priorities of the Government as well as the goals of the CARICOM Single Market and Economy (CSME); observe workers’ rights relating to collective bargaining; and safeguard the environment. They will not be permitted to engage in unethical practices or corrupt activities.

It should particularly be noted that the Government will not waive or otherwise derogate from its domestic environment laws, nor will it waive or otherwise derogate from its domestic labour laws in order to encourage the establishment, acquisition, expansion or retention of an investment in its territory.

EXPEDITING THE PROCESS

The period between submission of an investment application by an investor and approval or denial by the Government will not exceed eight weeks. Similar time limits apply to other permits and licences. However, in exceptional cases, especially activities requiring environmental impact assessment or detailed scrutiny, the Government may stipulate that more time than normal not exceeding eight additional weeks is required for the project proposal to be evaluated.

REGISTRATION

An investor must apply for investment registration under the Antigua and Barbuda Investment Authority Act and obtain an investment certificate before his eligibility for incentives and concessions can be considered.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Disputes between an investor and the Government regarding the eligibility of a foreign investment for registration will be resolved first by means of negotiation with a view to an amicable settlement. However, disputes which are not settled by such negotiations may be submitted by either party to arbitration pursuant to any of the following methods as may be agreed between the investor and the Government:

(a) any arbitration laws in force;

(b) any specific arbitration procedures that may otherwise be agreed between the investor and the Government;

(c) any bilateral or multilateral agreement or investment protection treaty to which the Government and the country of which the investor is a citizen are parties;
(d) the Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes between States and nationals of Other States of October 14th 1966 or any other international agreement for the settlement of investment disputes to which Antigua and Barbuda is a party;

Where no method or procedure for arbitration of an investment dispute is agreed between the Government and the investor, either party may apply to the High Court for a determination of any question arising from the dispute including the right of the parties to submit the dispute to arbitration in a given venue.

Where any interest in or right over property or investment is compulsorily taken possession of or compulsorily acquired, an investor may apply to the High Court for a determination of:

(a) the legality of the taking of possession or compulsory acquisition;
(b) the nature, value and extent of the property interest or right so taken or acquired;
(c) the amount of compensation to be paid in respect of the taking or acquisition;
(d) the period within which compensation is to be paid; and
(e) the right to promptly repatriate such compensation without hindrance and without deduction of taxes after settlement of all outstanding obligations;
